

Why did ökocat switch from the box to the bag?

We asked our consumers, and it was clear...while the box was nice, it was very hard to break down to recycle and the plastic handle had to be removed before going into the bin. They wanted a 100% recyclable package. This change aligns with our goal to provide a cleaner, healthier, and more sustainable litter choice.

Can I still purchase ökocat in a box?

All ökocat litter will now be packaged in our new 100% recyclable paper bag. ökocat litter boxes will still be available for a limited time as retailers work through their backstock. You can also find medium and large ökocat boxes available through Amazon.

Is the new ökocat bag recyclable?

Yes! The double-wall paper bags are fitted with a paper handle as well, making this new ökocat packaging 100% recyclable. Plus, it's fast and easy to recycle – just flatten and put in your paper recycle bin.

Is litter the same as before?

It is still the same high-quality litter you love, just in new 100% recyclable packaging! The weights vary slightly from the ökocat box counterparts, but the litter has not changed.

How do I use and store ökocat litter in the bag?

We recommend leaving the bag sealed, then use scissors to cut approximately 4 inches in at a slight upward angle. This will create a spout for easy pouring! When finished, roll the top of the bag down and seal with a chip clip for tidy storage. (please watch our video for a demonstration)

Where can I find the lot code on the new ökocat bags?

The lot code on all the new ökocat litter bags will be printed in the colored area towards the top of the bag on the back.
